Lord Jesus Christ, Give Us the Tongue of the Learned and the Ear to Hear Morning by Morning

Prayer date: _____

Father God, I come to You in the mighty Name of the Lord Jesus Christ. I thank You for waking me up. I thank You for keeping me through the night. I thank You for another opportunity to pray, listen, learn, and draw closer to You.

Lord, I do not want to begin this day in my own strength, my own opinions, my own emotions, or my own understanding. I want to begin this day with my ears open to You and my heart surrendered before You.

Your Word declares:

Isaiah 50:4

"The Lord God hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary..."

"He wakeneth morning by morning, He wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned."

Father, wake my ears morning by morning. Wake my heart morning by morning. Wake my understanding morning by morning. Wake my discernment morning by morning. Wake my obedience morning by morning.

Give me the ear of the learned. Teach me how to hear You. Teach me how to listen before I speak. Teach me how to wait before I move. Teach me how to be instructed before I try to instruct others.

Lord Jesus Christ, I confess that there are many voices in the world. Voices of fear. Voices of confusion. Voices of anger. Voices of pride. Voices of pressure. Voices of deception. Voices of distraction. Voices of pain. Voices of opinion.

But I need Your voice. Your Word says:

John 10:27

"My sheep hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me:"

Lord Jesus Christ, let me hear Your voice. Let me know Your voice. Let me follow Your voice. Do not let me follow the voice of fear. Do not let me follow the voice of flesh. Do not let me follow the voice of confusion. Do not let me follow the voice of offense. Do not let me follow the voice of strangers. Do not let me follow the voice of anything that pulls me away from truth, peace, holiness, wisdom, and obedience.

Father, train my ears. Train my heart. Train my spirit. Make me sensitive to the Holy Spirit and grounded in the written Word of God. Your Word declares:

John 16:13

"Howbeit when He, the Spirit of truth, is come, He will guide you into all truth..."

Father, let the Spirit of truth guide me into all truth. Not partial truth. Not emotional truth. Not convenient truth. Not cultural truth. Not truth mixed with fear. Guide me into all truth.

Holy Spirit, lead me. Holy Spirit, teach me. Holy Spirit, correct me. Holy Spirit, comfort me. Holy Spirit, remind me of the Word. Holy Spirit, help me pray. Holy Spirit, give me discernment. Holy Spirit, show me what is of God and what is not.

Lord, I ask for spiritual ears that can hear instruction. Sometimes You speak through Scripture. Sometimes You speak through wisdom. Sometimes You speak through correction. Sometimes You speak through peace. Sometimes You speak through stillness. Sometimes You speak through a closed door. Sometimes You speak through a holy check in the spirit.

Father, teach me to pay attention. Teach me not to ignore conviction. Teach me not to rush past warning. Teach me not to dismiss wisdom. Teach me not to fight correction. Teach me not to harden my heart. Your Word says:

Hebrews 3:15

"To day if ye will hear His voice, harden not your hearts..."

Father, keep my heart soft before You. Do not let disappointment harden me. Do not let offense harden me. Do not let delay harden me. Do not let pride harden me. Do not let fear harden me. Do not let weariness harden me.

Give me a humble heart that can still be taught. Give me a surrendered heart that can still be led. Give me an obedient heart that can still say yes.

Lord Jesus Christ, give me the tongue of the learned. Teach me how to speak a word in season to him that is weary. There are weary people all around me. Weary in body. Weary in mind. Weary in family. Weary in faith. Weary in finances. Weary in service. Weary in grief. Weary from carrying private burdens.

Father, give me words that heal and not words that wound. Give me words that strengthen and not words that tear down. Give me words that comfort and not words that condemn. Give me words that are truthful and not careless. Give me words that are timely and not rushed. Give me words that are seasoned with grace. Your Word declares:

Proverbs 15:23

"A man hath joy by the answer of his mouth: and a word spoken in due season, how good is it!"

Father, teach me the goodness of a word spoken in due season. Let me not speak just to speak. Let me not correct just to prove a point. Let me not advise without listening. Let me not respond from irritation, fear, pride, or impatience.

Teach me when to speak. Teach me when to be silent. Teach me what to say. Teach me how to say it. Teach me how to speak truth in love. Teach me how to comfort the weary without weakening the truth.

Lord, put a watch over my mouth. Let my words come under Your authority. Let my conversations come under Your covering. Let my tone come under Your Spirit. Let my timing come under Your wisdom.

Your Word says:

Psalm 141:3

"Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips."

Father, set a watch before my mouth. Keep the door of my lips. Do not let me speak death where You want me to speak life. Do not let me speak fear where You want me to speak faith. Do not let me speak confusion where You want me to speak clarity. Do not let me speak out of anger where You want me to speak with wisdom.

Lord, make my mouth instruments of prayer, praise, truth, encouragement, correction, blessing, and life. I repent for careless words. I repent for harsh words. I repent for fearful words. I repent for faithless words. I repent for words spoken too quickly. I repent for words spoken without love. I repent for silence when You told me to speak.

I repent for speaking when You told me to be still. Father, forgive me and teach me again. Your Word declares:

Proverbs 18:21

"Death and life are in the power of the tongue: and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof."

Lord, let life come from my tongue. Let Scripture come from my tongue. Let wisdom come from my tongue. Let prayer come from my tongue. Let encouragement come from my tongue. Let truth come from my tongue.

Father, I pray for every person praying now and everyone who will read or hear this prayer. Wake my ears to hear as the learned. Give me disciplined listening. Give me spiritual discernment. Give me humility to receive instruction. Give me courage to obey what I hear from You.

Lord, in a loud world, make me a listening person. In a rushed world, make me a patient person. In a confused world, make me a discerning person. In a harsh world, make me a gracious person. In a weary world, make me a person who can speak a word in season.

Father, provide wisdom for Your people today. Some need to know what to do next. Some need guidance in decisions. Some need direction in family matters. Some need wisdom in money. Some need wisdom in ministry. Some need wisdom in business. Some need wisdom in health. Some need wisdom in relationships. Some need wisdom in whether to move, wait, speak, rest, build, release, or begin again.

Your Word says:

James 1:5

"If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him."

Father, I ask for wisdom. Give wisdom liberally. Give wisdom without confusion. Give wisdom with peace. Give wisdom with Scripture. Give wisdom with confirmation. Give wisdom that keeps me under Your covering and in Your will.

Lord Jesus Christ, give me ears that hear You and a tongue that honors You. Let me not use my words to spread panic. Let me not use my words to spread gossip. Let me not use my words to spread unbelief. Let me not use my words to spread bitterness. Let me not use my words to spread confusion. Let me use my words to pray. Let me use my words to bless.

Let me use my words to build. Let me use my words to encourage. Let me use my words to speak truth. Let me use my words to glorify the Lord Jesus Christ. Father, today I declare: My ears belong to You. My mouth belongs to You. My conversations belong to You. My counsel belongs to You. My timing belongs to You. My tone belongs to You. My words belong to You.

Wake me morning by morning. Teach me as the learned. Give me the tongue of the learned. Help me speak a word in season to the weary. Let the Holy Spirit guide me into all truth. Let the Word of God shape what I hear and what I say. Let the Lord Jesus Christ be glorified in my listening and in my speaking. In the mighty Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, I pray.

Amen. Father God, as I continue in prayer, I ask You to bring this Word deeper into my own heart, my own mind, my own mouth, and my own daily walk. Lord Jesus Christ, give me the tongue of the learned, but first give me the heart of the surrendered. Give me the ear to hear morning by morning, but first give me the humility to listen when You speak.

Teach me not only to desire a word for others, but to receive Your Word for myself.

Father, sometimes I want to speak before I have listened. Sometimes I want to correct before I have been corrected. Sometimes I want to encourage others while my own soul are weary, cluttered, distracted, or unsettled.

Lord, sit me at Your feet again. Your Word declares:

Luke 10:39

"And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard His word."

Father, teach me to sit at the feet of Jesus. Teach me to hear His Word before I rush into my day. Teach me to quiet my heart long enough to receive instruction. Teach me to love Your presence more than my own opinions, plans, and schedules.

Lord Jesus Christ, wake me morning by morning. Wake me not only physically, but spiritually. Wake up my attention. Wake up my hunger. Wake up my reverence. Wake up my desire for truth. Wake up my sensitivity to the Holy Spirit.

Do not let me be spiritually dull. Do not let me be too busy to listen. Do not let me be too proud to learn. Do not let me be too wounded to receive. Do not let me be too distracted to discern. Your Word says:

"Blessed is the man that heareth Me, watching daily at My gates, waiting at the posts of My doors."

Father, make me a daily watcher. Make me a person who listens for You. Make me a person who waits at the posts of Your doors. Make me a person who knows that one word from God is better than a thousand anxious thoughts.

Lord, teach me to guard what I hear. Everything that enters my ears does not deserve access to my heart. Every report does not deserve my agreement. Every opinion does not deserve my attention. Every fearful word does not deserve a home in my spirit.

Father, give me discernment over what I receive. Give me discernment over what I repeat. Give me discernment over what I believe. Give me discernment over what I allow to shape my mood, my faith, my speech, and my decisions. Your Word declares:

Romans 10:17

"So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God."

Father, let faith come by hearing Your Word. Let faith rise as Scripture fills my ears. Let faith rise as truth fills my home. Let faith rise as worship fills my atmosphere. Let faith rise as prayer replaces worry.

Lord, if fear has been coming by what I have been hearing, then shift what I am hearing. If confusion has been coming by what I have been hearing, shift what I am hearing. If anger has been coming by what I have been hearing, shift what I am hearing. If despair has been coming by what I have been hearing, shift what I am hearing. Let the Word of God become the loudest voice in my life.

Father, give me discipline with my phones, my screens, my conversations, my media, my music, my news, and my daily inputs. Help me recognize when my spirit is being fed fear instead of faith, noise instead of wisdom, distraction instead of direction.

Lord, purify my hearing. Purify my focus. Purify my atmosphere. Purify what I allow into my mind. Purify what I allow into my home. Purify what I allow to influence my words. Your Word says:

Philippians 4:8

"Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure..."

"...whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report... think on these things."

Father, teach me to think on what is true. Teach me to think on what is honest. Teach me to think on what is just, pure, lovely, and of good report. Teach me not to let my mind become dumping grounds for fear, resentment, gossip, suspicion, and unbelief.

Lord, renew my mind so You can govern my mouth. Your Word declares:

Romans 12:2

"And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind..."

Father, renew my mind. Transform how I think. Transform how I listen. Transform how I process pressure. Transform how I respond to people. Transform how I speak over my life and family.

Lord, I ask You to heal the places where my words have been shaped by pain. Heal the places where disappointment has made me negative. Heal the places where fear has made me controlling. Heal the places where rejection has made me defensive. Heal the places where weariness has made me sharp.

Father, let my words be healed at the root. Let my tone be healed at the root. Let my reactions be healed at the root. Let my listening be healed at the root. Let my silence be healed at the root.

Lord Jesus Christ, teach me the difference between being quiet and being healed. Teach me the difference between speaking truth and speaking from hurt. Teach me the difference between discernment and suspicion. Teach me the difference between holy boldness and fleshly reaction.

Your Word says:

James 1:19

"Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath:"

Father, make me swift to hear. Slow to speak. Slow to wrath. Slow to assume. Slow to accuse. Slow to react. Slow to answer before I understand. Give me the grace to listen. Give me the wisdom to pause. Give me the humility to ask. Give me the self-control to wait. Give me the discernment to respond by the Holy Spirit and not by the flesh.

Lord, I pray for my mouth today. Put Your Word in my mouth. Put prayer in my mouth. Put praise in my mouth. Put wisdom in my mouth. Put encouragement in my mouth. Put truth in my mouth. Put grace in my mouth.

Your Word declares:

Colossians 4:6

"Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man."

Father, let my speech be always with grace. Season my words with salt. Teach me how I ought to answer every person. Teach me how to answer the weary. Teach me how to answer the angry. Teach me how to answer the hurting. Teach me how to answer the confused. Teach me how to answer those who oppose truth.

Let me not answer every person the same way. Let me not answer from habit. Let me not answer from irritation. Let me not answer from pride. Let me answer from wisdom. Let me answer from love. Let me answer from truth. Let me answer from the Spirit of God.

Father, make me a safe person for the weary, but not compromising. Make me a gentle person, but not silent. Make me a truthful person, but not cruel. Make me a wise person, but not prideful.

Lord, give me words in season. A word in season for the discouraged. A word in season for the grieving. A word in season for the young. A word in season for the elder. A word in season for the parent. A word in season for the servant. A word in season for the leader. A word in season for the person who feels like giving up. Your Word says:

Proverbs 25:11

"A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

Father, give me fitly spoken words. Words that fit the season. Words that fit the person. Words that fit the moment. Words that are beautiful because they are wise, timely, and led by You.

Lord, forgive me for words that were not fitly spoken. Forgive me for words that were too early. Forgive me for words that were too harsh. Forgive me for words that were careless. Forgive me for words spoken from pride. Forgive me for words spoken from fear. Forgive me for words spoken without prayer. Father, cleanse my mouth and train it for Your glory.

Lord, I also pray for my silence. Teach me when silence is wisdom. Teach me when silence is self-control. Teach me when silence is obedience. Teach me when silence protects peace.

But also teach me when silence is fear. Teach me when silence is compromise. Teach me when silence is avoidance. Teach me when silence becomes disobedience. Holy Spirit, lead me in both speaking and silence. Your Word declares:

Ecclesiastes 3:7

"...a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;"

Father, teach me the time. Teach me the season. Teach me the difference. Give me discernment to know when to keep silence and when to speak.

Lord Jesus Christ, let my daily life become classrooms of the Holy Spirit. Let every morning be a place of instruction. Let every conversation become an opportunity for obedience. Let every pressure become a place where I practice hearing You.

Father, help me not to waste the morning. Help me not to rush past Your whisper. Help me not to begin my day with worry. Help me not to fill my mouth before You fill my heart. Wake me morning by morning. Teach me morning by morning. Correct me morning by morning. Encourage me morning by morning. Strengthen me morning by morning.

Father, I ask You to give me ears for You before I give ears to the world. Give me a heart for Your Word before I give attention to every report. Give me a tongue shaped by Scripture before I speak out of habit.

Lord, I declare today: I will listen for the voice of the Lord. I will guard what enters my ears. I will think on what is true. I will be swift to hear and slow to speak. I will speak with grace. I will speak words in season. I will not let fear govern my mouth. I will not let anger govern my tone. I will not let pressure govern my responses.

I will allow the Holy Spirit to teach me when to speak and when to be silent. Lord Jesus Christ, give me the tongue of the learned and the ear to hear morning by morning. In the mighty Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, I pray. Amen.

Father God, now that I have prayed for ears to hear You and a tongue that honors You, I ask You to let that same wisdom, discernment, grace, and truth move through me into every place You have assigned me to serve.

Lord Jesus Christ, give me words that do not just sound spiritual, but words that carry Your heart. Give me words that strengthen families. Give me words that encourage the weary. Give me words that restore hope. Give me words that build faith. Give me words that bring correction with love. Give me words that bring comfort with truth. Give me words that point people back to You.

Father, I pray for my home. Let my home become places where Your voice is honored. Let my family become people who hear Your Word, speak Your Word, and live by Your Word.

Your Word declares:

Deuteronomy 6:6-7

"And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart:"

"And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house..."

Father, let Your Word be in my heart and in my home. Let Your Word be in my conversations. Let Your Word be in how I teach my children. Let Your Word be in how I correct. Let Your Word be in how I comfort. Let Your Word be in how I make decisions.

Lord, teach me how to speak to my family with wisdom. Teach me how to speak to children with patience. Teach me how to speak to young adults with understanding. Teach me how to speak to elders with honor. Teach me how to speak to spouses with love. Teach me how to speak to those who are hurting with compassion. Teach me how to speak to those who are drifting with truth.

Father, let my home not be filled with careless words, harsh words, bitter words, fearful words, or faithless words. Let my home be filled with prayer, Scripture, wisdom, encouragement, and peace.

Lord, I pray for every parent, grandparent, guardian, teacher, mentor, and caregiver. Give them the tongue of the learned. Help them know how to speak a word in season to the children, youth, and young adults You have entrusted to them.

Some children need correction. Some need comfort. Some need direction. Some need protection. Some need patience. Some need encouragement. Some need truth. Some need someone to listen. Father, give adults wisdom to know the difference. Your Word says:

Proverbs 22:6

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Father, help me train with love. Help me train with wisdom. Help me train with consistency. Help me train with patience. Help me train by example and not only by instruction.

Let my children see me pray. Let my children hear me speak life. Let my children see me repent when I am wrong. Let my children see me honor Your Word. Let my children see me choose peace over panic. Let my children see me listen for God before I make decisions.

Lord, I pray for the weary in my family. Some are tired from work. Some are tired from caregiving. Some are tired from grief. Some are tired from financial pressure. Some are tired from spiritual warfare. Some are tired from being strong for everybody else.

Father, give me words in season for the weary in my own home. Help me not overlook the people closest to me. Help me not encourage strangers while ignoring my family. Help me not speak gently in public and harshly in private. Help me not use my words to wound the people You called me to love. Your Word declares:

"Pleasant words are as an honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones."

Father, let my words bring sweetness to the soul and health to the bones. Let my words strengthen weary places. Let my words bring relief and not more heaviness. Let my words be pleasant without being fake, truthful without being harsh, and loving without being weak.

Lord, I pray for my church. Let the Church hear what the Spirit is saying. Let the Church not be deaf to correction. Let the Church not be dull in discernment. Let the Church not be careless with words. Let the Church not speak what You have not spoken.

Your Word says:

Revelation 2:7

"He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches..."

Father, give the Church ears to hear. Give pastors ears to hear. Give elders ears to hear. Give ministers ears to hear. Give deacons ears to hear. Give teachers ears to hear. Give intercessors ears to hear. Give worship leaders ears to hear. Give servants ears to hear.

Let the Church hear Your voice above culture. Let the Church hear Your voice above fear. Let the Church hear Your voice above tradition when tradition is not aligned with truth. Let the Church hear Your voice above popularity. Let the Church hear Your voice above pressure. Let the Church hear Your voice above man's agenda. Lord, restore the sound of truth in the Church.

Restore the sound of prayer in the Church. Restore the sound of repentance in the Church. Restore the sound of holiness in the Church. Restore the sound of love in the Church. Restore the sound of Scripture in the Church. Restore the sound of worship in the Church. Restore the sound of wise counsel in the Church.

Father, I pray for every preacher, teacher, pastor, minister, elder, deacon, evangelist, prophet, apostle, leader, and servant who handles Your Word. Give them the tongue of the learned. Let them not speak to impress. Let them not speak to manipulate. Let them not speak to entertain only. Let them not speak from pride, anger, greed, fear, or ambition.

Let them speak as servants of the Lord Jesus Christ. Your Word declares:

1 Peter 4:11

"If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God..."

Father, let those who speak for You speak with reverence. Let those who teach Your Word teach with humility. Let those who lead Your people lead with wisdom. Let those who correct do it with love. Let those who comfort do it with truth.

Lord, guard pulpits. Guard platforms. Guard microphones. Guard classrooms. Guard prayer calls. Guard counsel rooms. Guard social media posts. Guard every place where people speak in

Your Name. Do not let careless fire come from holy places. Do not let flesh dress itself up like discernment. Do not let pride hide behind revelation. Do not let fear hide behind warning.

Do not let opinion be presented as Your Word. Father, make me clean vessels. Make me humble vessels. Make me truthful vessels. Make me careful vessels. Make me loving vessels. Make me yielded vessels.

Lord, I pray for the weary in the Body of Christ. I pray for those who have served and are tired. Those who have prayed and are tired. Those who have believed and are tired. Those who have given and are tired. Those who have been faithful but are quietly discouraged.

Father, send them a word in season. Send encouragement. Send rest. Send wisdom. Send help. Send covering. Send confirmation. Send strength. Send people who will speak life and not add weight. Your Word says:

Galatians 6:9

"And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."

Father, strengthen those who are weary in well doing. Help them not faint. Help them not quit in the waiting. Help them not mistake delay for denial. Help them not believe that their labor in the Lord is vain.

Speak to the weary servant. Speak to the tired intercessor. Speak to the faithful caregiver. Speak to the quiet giver. Speak to the overlooked helper. Speak to the one who has kept showing up. Speak to the one who feels unseen. Speak to the one who needs strength for another day.

Lord, I pray for my community. Let Your people become voices of wisdom, comfort, truth, and peace in places where people are tired, confused, angry, afraid, or hopeless.

Give me a word in season for my neighborhoods. Give me a word in season for my schools. Give me a word in season for my workplaces. Give me a word in season for my senior centers. Give me a word in season for my youth. Give me a word in season for my family. Give me a word in season for those who are grieving. Give me a word in season for those who feel forgotten.

Father, help me not to be silent when You have called me to speak. Help me not to be loud when You have called me to listen. Help me not to be careless when You have called me to steward words.

Your Word declares:

Isaiah 58:10

"And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul..."

"...then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noonday:"

Father, help me draw out my soul to the hungry and satisfy the afflicted soul. Let my words not be empty. Let my prayers not be distant. Let my faith not be selfish. Let me care about the afflicted, the hungry, the discouraged, the broken, and the weary.

Show me how to speak. Show me how to serve. Show me how to listen. Show me how to help. Show me how to be present. Show me how to represent Christ with both truth and compassion.

Lord Jesus Christ, I pray for schools and students. Give teachers and leaders the tongue of the learned. Give them patience, wisdom, discernment, and compassion. Let words spoken over children be words that help them rise and not words that crush their spirits.

I pray for workplaces and businesses. Let Your people speak with integrity. Let meetings, decisions, corrections, negotiations, and leadership conversations be guided by wisdom and not pride, fear, manipulation, or greed.

I pray for families in conflict. Give them words that repair and not destroy. Give them ears to hear one another. Give them humility to apologize. Give them courage to tell the truth. Give them grace to forgive.

I pray for those who counsel others. Give them wisdom. Give them discernment. Give them careful words. Let them not speak from assumption, ego, or impatience. Let them speak from wisdom, prayer, and love.

Father, let my words become bridges and not weapons. Let my words become medicine and not poison. Let my words become light and not darkness. Let my words become direction and not confusion. Let my words become encouragement and not discouragement. Let my words become truth and not flattery. Let my words become prayer and not gossip. Your Word says:

Ephesians 4:29

"Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying..."

"...that it may minister grace unto the hearers."

Father, let no corrupt communication proceed out of my mouth. Let my words edify. Let my words minister grace to the hearers. Let people receive grace when they hear me speak. Let people receive truth when they hear me speak. Let people receive courage when they hear me speak. Let people receive correction without condemnation when they hear me speak.

Lord, I ask You to raise up seasoned voices in this hour. Voices that are not easily shaken. Voices that are not careless. Voices that are not hungry for attention. Voices that are not controlled by fear. Voices that are not moved by every trend. Voices that are rooted in Scripture. Voices that are filled with the Spirit. Voices that know how to comfort the weary.

Voices that know how to warn with love. Voices that know how to build without boasting. Voices that know how to speak and when to be silent. Father, make me one of those voices. Make my home places of wise speech. Make my church places of holy speech. Make my community places where Your people carry words of life. Make my prayer calls places where the weary are strengthened.

Make my conversations places where Christ is honored. Lord Jesus Christ, I declare: My home will hear the Word of the Lord. My children will be taught with wisdom. My family will be strengthened by grace-filled words. My church will hear what the Spirit is saying. My leaders will speak with humility and truth. My community will encounter words that heal, build, and point back to Christ.

The weary will receive a word in season. The afflicted will not be forgotten. The Body of Christ will be edified. My mouth will minister grace to the hearers. I will hear morning by morning. I will speak as You lead. I will carry the tongue of the learned into every place You send me. In the mighty Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, I pray. Amen.

Father God, I have prayed for the tongue of the learned, the ear to hear morning by morning, hearts that are surrendered, mouths that are governed by Your Spirit, homes filled with Your Word, churches that hear what the Spirit is saying, and weary people strengthened by words in season.

Now, Father, I ask You to seal this third day of this prayer journey with wisdom, discernment, grace, truth, humility, obedience, and holy restraint. Lord Jesus Christ, let every word prayed today take root in me. Let every scripture settle in me. Let every correction help me. Let every encouragement strengthen me. Let every warning protect me.

Let every truth form me. Let every prayer become obedience in my daily life. Father, do not let me only be hearers of this Word. Make me doers. Your Word declares:

"But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves."

Father, make me doers of Your Word. Let me not hear about wisdom and then walk in foolishness. Let me not hear about grace and then speak harshly. Let me not hear about listening and then rush past Your voice. Let me not hear about words in season and then speak carelessly.

Let this prayer change the way I listen. Let this prayer change the way I speak. Let this prayer change the way I counsel. Let this prayer change the way I correct. Let this prayer change the way I encourage. Let this prayer change the way I respond.

Lord Jesus Christ, seal my ears. Let my ears be open to You and guarded against deception. Let my ears be sensitive to the Holy Spirit and discerning against the voice of strangers.

Your Word says:

Proverbs 2:2

"So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding;"

Father, teach me to incline my ears unto wisdom. Teach me to apply my heart to understanding. Let me not listen casually when You are speaking seriously. Let me not dismiss what You are trying to teach me.

Incline my ears to Your Word. Incline my ears to Your wisdom. Incline my ears to Your correction. Incline my ears to Your instruction. Incline my ears to Your timing. Incline my ears to Your peace.

Father, seal my mouth. Let my mouth be instruments of righteousness and not weapons of the flesh. Let my tongue be trained for prayer, praise, truth, wisdom, encouragement, correction, blessing, and life.

Your Word declares:

"Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer."

Lord, let the words of my mouth be acceptable in Your sight. Let the meditations of my heart be acceptable in Your sight. Let my private thoughts and public words come under Your authority. Let my tone be acceptable. Let my timing be acceptable. Let my counsel be acceptable. Let my correction be acceptable. Let my encouragement be acceptable.

Let my silence be acceptable. Let my speech be acceptable. O Lord, You are my strength and my redeemer.

Father, I ask You to forgive me again for every way my words have not honored You. Forgive me for every time I spoke too soon, too harshly, too proudly, too carelessly, too fearfully, or too foolishly.

Forgive me for words that wounded when they should have healed. Forgive me for words that discouraged when they should have strengthened. Forgive me for words that spread fear when they should have spoken faith. Forgive me for words that fed confusion when they should have brought clarity. Forgive me for words that carried offense when they should have carried grace.

Forgive me for words spoken without prayer. Forgive me for silence when You called me to speak. Forgive me for speaking when You called me to be still. Father, cleanse me and train me again. Your Word says:

"Then flew one of the seraphims unto me, having a live coal in his hand..."

"And he laid it upon my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin purged."

Father, touch my lips with holy fire. Purge what needs to be purged. Cleanse what needs to be cleansed. Consecrate what needs to be consecrated. Let my mouth not be common when You have called it to be holy. Let my words not be careless when You have called them to carry life. Let my speech not be ruled by flesh when You have called me to be led by the Spirit.

Lord Jesus Christ, sanctify my voice. Sanctify my counsel. Sanctify my conversations. Sanctify my prayer language. Sanctify my correction. Sanctify my teaching. Sanctify my encouragement. Sanctify my testimony. Sanctify my witness. Father, let the Holy Spirit govern every word that comes out of my mouth. Your Word declares:

"...but be filled with the Spirit;"

"Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord;"

Father, fill me with the Spirit. Let my mouth be filled with psalms, hymns, spiritual songs, prayer, praise, truth, and thanksgiving. Let melody return to hearts that have been heavy. Let worship replace worry. Let Scripture replace fear. Let prayer replace complaint.

Fill my home with spiritual songs. Fill my church with holy sound. Fill my conversations with grace. Fill my heart with melody unto the Lord.

Lord, seal this day over every person who is weary. I pray again for those who need a word in season. I pray for those who are tired in body, tired in mind, tired in spirit, tired in ministry, tired in family, tired in work, tired in grief, and tired from carrying burdens in silence.

Your Word says:

Isaiah 40:29

"He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might He increaseth strength."

Father, give power to the faint. Increase strength to those who have no might. Let the weary not leave this prayer journey the same way they came. Let them receive strength from You. Let them receive hope from You. Let them receive direction from You. Let them receive comfort from You.

Speak to the faint. Strengthen the weak. Lift the bowed down. Encourage the discouraged. Refresh the servant. Comfort the grieving. Steady the anxious. Guide the uncertain. Restore the one who feels empty.

Lord Jesus Christ, make me a person who knows how to help the weary without becoming proud. Make me a person who knows how to speak without taking over. Make me a person who knows how to listen without judging. Make me a person who knows how to correct without crushing. Make me a person who knows how to encourage without flattering.

Give me the tongue of the learned. Give me the heart of a servant. Give me the patience of love. Give me the wisdom of the Holy Spirit.

Father, seal my mornings. Let me not waste the morning. Let me not rush into the day without acknowledging You. Let me not give my first attention to fear, noise, messages, reports, pressure, or worry.

Your Word declares:

Psalms 5:3

"My voice shalt Thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto Thee, and will look up."

Father, hear my voice in the morning. Teach me to direct my prayer unto You and look up. Before I look around, teach me to look up. Before I answer others, teach me to answer You. Before I take in the noise of the day, teach me to receive the Word of the Lord.

Wake me morning by morning. Teach me morning by morning. Correct me morning by morning. Guide me morning by morning. Strengthen me morning by morning. Give me ears to hear morning by morning.

Father, seal this assignment over this prayer journey. Let Day One's awakening continue. Let Day Two's covering and peace remain. Let Day Three's hearing, wisdom, and words in season be established in me.

Let the rest of this prayer journey build on truth. Let the rest of this prayer journey be led by the Holy Spirit. Let the rest of this prayer journey strengthen the weary. Let the rest of this prayer journey sharpen discernment. Let the rest of this prayer journey glorify the Lord Jesus Christ. Your Word says:

Revelation 3:22

"He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches."

Father, give me ears to hear what the Spirit is saying. Not only once. Not only during a prayer gathering. Not only in a moment of emotion. Give me ears to hear daily, humbly, consistently, and obediently.

Let the Church hear. Let families hear. Let leaders hear. Let servants hear. Let intercessors hear. Let the weary hear. Let the young hear. Let the elders hear. Let Your people hear what the Spirit is saying.

Lord Jesus Christ, I ask You to make me trustworthy with words. Make me trustworthy with wisdom. Make me trustworthy with counsel. Make me trustworthy with correction. Make me trustworthy with encouragement. Make me trustworthy with prayer. Make me trustworthy with silence.

Let me not waste words. Let me not misuse words. Let me not weaponize words. Let me not manipulate with words. Let me not flatter with words. Let me not destroy with words. Let me steward words as a servant of God. Father, I declare today: My ears are open to the voice of the Lord. My heart is surrendered to the Word of the Lord. My mouth is submitted to the Spirit of the Lord.

My conversations are covered by the wisdom of the Lord. My mornings belong to the Lord. My words will minister grace to the hearers. My counsel will be rooted in Scripture. My correction will be clothed in love. My encouragement will strengthen the weary. My silence will be Spirit-led. My speech will be acceptable in Your sight. I will be swift to hear.

I will be slow to speak. I will be slow to wrath. I will hear what the Spirit is saying. I will speak as You lead. I will carry the tongue of the learned. I will receive the ear to hear morning by morning.

Lord Jesus Christ, thank You for Day Three. Thank You for calling me to listen again. Thank You for teaching me to speak with wisdom. Thank You for reminding me that weary people need words in season. Thank You for correcting my mouth, training my ears, and bringing my heart under Your instruction.

Seal this prayer in every heart. Seal this Word in every home. Seal this wisdom in every conversation. Seal this discipline in every mouth. Seal this discernment in every ear. Seal this assignment in the will of God.

Now seal this day in the mighty, holy, wise, truthful, gracious, and matchless Name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Amen. Amen. And Amen.
